

An aerial photograph of a rural landscape during the golden hour of sunset. The scene features rolling green hills covered in dense, dark green trees and shrubs. In the middle ground, a valley opens up, showing a sunlit field with scattered trees and a small pond or water feature. The sun is low on the horizon, casting a warm, golden glow over the entire scene and creating long shadows. The sky is filled with soft, golden clouds. A dark teal banner with a light blue vertical bar on the left side is positioned at the top of the image, containing the text 'Country Lifestyle Living in Regional NSW.'
